Collecting Methods

Ninety-year-old Cover a Case Study in the Challenges of Organization

by David M. Frye,
Editor

Once my stamp collection outgrew the original Minuteman binder holding my general U.S. collection, I've struggled a bit with how to keep track of everything I've accumulated and incorporated into my various "sub-collections," for lack of a better word.

The pictured cover, one I just acquired in February, provides a perfect stress test for any organizational system. The questions are multiple, "How does one classify this? Where does one file it?"

In no particular order, here are the possibilities that cross my mind as I look at this particular piece of postal history.

Fourth Bureau Issue: This is an obvious first choice, as five copies of the 2¢ Washington appear on the cover.

Stamped Envelopes: I am absolutely un-schooled in figuring out which variety of the 2¢ Washington this envelope is, but it fits here somewhere ... somehow.

Nebraska Postal History: The mailing traveled from Falls City to Lincoln, so it counts.

Special Delivery: A handwritten "Special Del" and one of the auxiliary markings—"Fee Claimed by Office of First Address"—place the envelope in this category as well.

Railway Post Offices: The circular date stamp (CDS) on the front indicates the mailing traveled the Omaha & Kansas City route.

Christmas Mail: This connection's a bit more obscure, but the date in the RPO cancellation notes the letter made its train trip on Christmas Day, 1925.

In the Beholder's Eye: A cover from late December 1925 offers a wide variety of options for how to incorporate it into one's collection and raises questions about what categories make the best system to fit one's own collecting habits.

Senders and Recipients with Stories: Who were Robert E. Steele and Mr. Ben Asendorf? A quick Google search of Robert E. Steele turns up an obituary for WW II veteran Robert E. Steele Jr., 1923–2011. His father, Robert Steele Sr., ran a family farm in Falls City. He was probably the sender of the letter. Another quick search returns nothing about Ben Asendorf. This nut will be tough to crack!

Birthday Mail: OK, this one is really a niche, but I have a small stash of mail that was cancelled on December 31, my birthday. Not all of it comes from my birth year, but it all comes from my birth day. The purple date stamp just to the right of the return address on this cover is "DEC 31 1925," most likely the date the letter returned to Falls City after it had been determined to be undeliverable in Lincoln, where it had been received on December 26. This date appears on a circular date stamp on the back of the envelope.

WesternPostal History

Bill Johnson will present a program, "Western Postal History," at the April 10 meeting of the Omaha Philatelic Society (OPS). The society's members have extended a special invitation to the members of the Lincoln Stamp Club to gather with them for this special event.

A member of OPS, Bill Johnson has won numerous APS gold medals for his exhibits. He resides in Kansas. He served on the panel of judges for LINPEX 2014 and has exhibited at LINPEX.

The OPS meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. at:

Pacific Hills Lutheran Church
90th and Pacific Streets
(SW corner)
Omaha, Nebraska.

Club's By-laws Updated

At the Club's business meeting on Feb. 5, 2015, the Club voted without opposition to adopt a revision to its by-laws, stating that no Club member may hold more than one elected office at the same time. This change clarifies the section on Club leadership (IV.1).

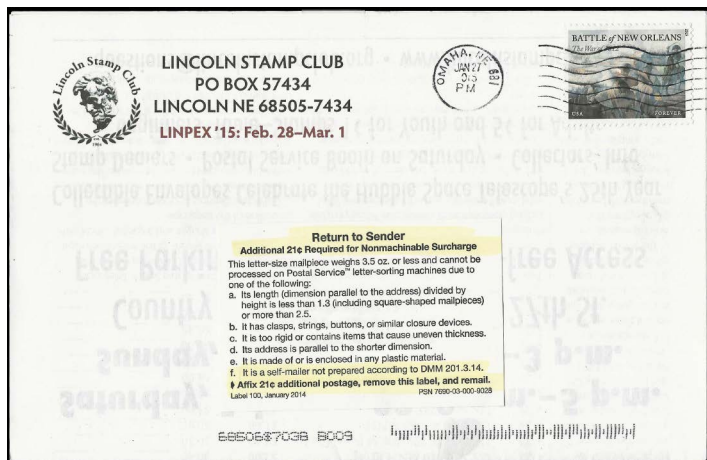

To abide by other provisions of the by-laws, the proposed revision had been presented and discussed at two earlier meetings.

March 2015 Exchange

The Club offers the following items at its monthly exchange. Make payments in cash or in personal checks made out to the Club. Items in black are donations to the Lincoln Stamp Club. Proceeds from the sale of donations benefit the Club's general work. The lots listed in color are not donations; they are a member's lots.

An Education in the Uses of the USPS's DMM

The February issue of The Souvenir Sheet arrived late—and with an additional 21¢ in postage—in a number of its recipients' mailboxes. The “Return to Sender” label on one of the copies pointed the Club to the Domestic Mail Manual (DMM 201.3.14) for the reason. While a tape tab had sealed the top edge of the newsletter, the issues failed to include two tabs on the right-hand (leading) edge of the newsletter. This prevents the folded pages from billowing open while passing through the sorting equipment.

About the Cachet: The Hubble Space Telescope

The mailing panel of this issue of the Souvenir Sheet displays the design of the cachet for the show cover sold at LINPEX 2015 to mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the entry into service of the Hubble Space Telescope. Here are the details that explain the cachet.

On April 24, 1990, Discovery lifted off from Kennedy Space Center, Florida, carrying the Hubble Space Telescope into orbit and beginning a twenty-five year mission that remains active to this day. Astronomers may continue to conduct valuable research with the HST through 2020, even though the telescope's successor, the James Webb Space Telescope, is set for deployment in 2018.

The cover features images depicting the history of the telescope and a small selection from among its myriad of images. Proceeding clockwise from the upper left of the cachet, the images depict the following objects:

- The Horsehead Nebula in the Orion Molecular Cloud.
- HST in May 2009 after the crew of Atlantis performed the last of the telescope's five servicing missions.
- Great clouds in the Carina Nebula.
- Discovery on mission STS-31 executing its roll maneuver after liftoff on April 24, 1990, carrying the HST in its cargo bay.
- A view of Saturn in visible light.

Club Member Sparks Drive to Bring 2019 APS StampShow to Nebraska

Anyone who reads the APS's American Philatelist knows that the organization sponsors its annual StampShow, which appears in different locations each year. Unless one is a fan of road trips or chooses to fly, these events come and go without often coming close enough to southeastern Nebraska to make a visit practical.

If the vision of Edgar Hicks, a member of both the Lincoln Stamp Club and the Omaha Philatelic Society, comes to fruition, the 2019 APS StampShow will land in Omaha. He was worked long hours to garner some financial support from Union Pacific Corporation, with headquarters in Omaha. In 2019, the country will mark the sesquicentennial of the completion of the First Transcontinental Railroad, making UP's participation a natural fit.

The most recent issue of The American Stamp Dealer & Collector includes an editorial by Randy L. Neil: “Omaha? Yes, Omaha!” He makes a strong case for Omaha as a StampShow site, ending his piece by writing:

Edgar Hicks and the OPS have worked feverishly to make this happen. With the power of a giant, historic U.S. company behind them, Omaha's philatelists might give the APS membership a jumbo pleasant surprise. The Club thanks Edgar for his work on this project!

Topics: Business, Show & Tell, and "Stamp Insurance"

The Club meets at a central Lincoln location from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on the first and third Thursdays each month:

St. Paul United Methodist Church
1144 M St., Lincoln, Neb.

Go south on 11th Street, then turn left into the church's parking garage between N and M Streets. Take the elevator to the main floor. Street parking is available too.

~Show and Tell~

We encourage members of the Club to bring items from their collections to the second meeting of the month to show to members. You can bring an unusual or distinctive item, an item with a story, an item that needs further identification, or anything that captures your eye and interest. This is a great way to share with fellow members some of your collection's high points!

- Business Meeting and Exchange: Thursday, March 5.
- Show and Tell and Program: Thursday, March 19: "Stamp Insurance," by Ken Pruess.
- Business Meeting and Exchange: Thursday, April 2.
- Upcoming Meetings: April 2 & 16, May 7 & 21, and June 4 & 18.
